

Family Feud

Saturday, September 06, 2008

To celebrate its 30th Anniversary, Family Feud has revamped the show, with a new look, new host and a new set.

Our

new host, John O'Hurley's quick wit and sophisticated style resonates with viewers who remember the Richard Dawson era. Although the set is now in a theatre in the round setting, it is somewhat of a throwback to the Dawson era when the families posed inside a living room setting.

All these elements refresh this icon of American television. About John O'Hurley: One of People magazine's "Sexiest Men Alive," John O'Hurley has catapulted into television's busiest and most versatile actor, show host, advertising hero, and feature film star.

The award-winning actor is best known as "J. Peterman" on "Seinfeld," which is now the #1 syndicated series in the world in 85 countries. He danced his way into the hearts of America as the ultimate champion of the highly rated ABC show "Dancing with the Stars," and then starred on Broadway in Chicago, as the male lead "Billy Flynn," opposite Robin Givens. O'Hurley is now starring as the head of the Round Table, King Author, in Eric Idle's hilarious musical comedy "Monty Python's Spamalot" in Las Vegas at the Grail Theater at the Wynn Las Vegas hotel. He is the face of the popular syndicated show "Family Feud" and Dick Clark's "TV's Funniest Bloopers." To follow up his New York Times Bestseller called "It's OK to Miss the Bed on the First Jump: And Other Life Lessons Learned from Dogs," O'Hurley will release his second book, "Before Your Dog Can Eat Your Homework, First You Have To Do It" in October 2007! He also released "Dance with John and Charlotte," a three-part instructional dance DVD that he made with his "Dancing with the Stars" partner, Charlotte, which is available on his website at www.johnohurley.com. O'Hurley has a CD called "Peace of Our Minds," a collaboration of piano and cello compositions by O'Hurley and world renowned cellist Marston which sold out in 8 MINUTES on QVC and is a nationwide bestseller. "Peace of Our Minds" is also the first completely independently produced CD to ever reach #13 on the Billboard Music charts. It is available on O'Hurley's website www.johnohurley.com and at CDBaby.com.
